Receding from the Society has been an easy endeavor. Rural outposts and willingness to be self Sufficient creates an easy transition. Now it seems the Flow is back; the push to engage and assimilate. Well, for this Individual, I am not about to rush into things. When I close my Eyes and imagine a Safe Place it always incorporates Nature - not tall buildings and concrete. Here, within my spot on Earth, I can open my eyes and I see that Safe Place. Here, the birds are reckless and water is plentiful - it is loud with Nature.
